

Name: _____

Character Report Assignment Sheet – 150 points

While reading March, we have come across many characters who have played vital roles in the Civil Rights movement. John Lewis provides brief snapshots of who these people were but doesn't always have the time to discuss all the great and powerful things they had done. There are also characters that played a terrible part and added to the hate and violence, much of which Lewis also can't fully cover within just three books.

This is where you come in! You will be creating a poster detailing a character or figure within the Civil Rights movement that John Lewis has mentioned in March. Below are your guidelines and characters to choose from. (I will be limiting character choices to a maximum of three students per character that way we have a variety.) Attached is the rubric for your project.

Guidelines:

- ✓ You must have five pieces of information written in sentence form on your poster.
- ✓ Only one of the five pieces can be considered demographic information, meaning you may have only one blurb about their age, date of birth (and death), hometown, spouse, etc.
- ✓ You must use at least three sources to gather your five pieces of information. March does not count as one of your three sources.
- ✓ You must put your sources, including the book in which your character first appears, in a Works Cited page.
- ✓ Please be creative and have fun creating your poster but make sure it is easy to read and visually pleasing to your audience.

Available Characters:

- |                             |                      |
|-----------------------------|----------------------|
| ▪ John Lewis                | ▪ Jim Bevel          |
| ▪ Jim Lawson                | ▪ A. Philip Randolph |
| ▪ James (Jim) Farmer        | ▪ Malcom X           |
| ▪ Eugene "Bull" Connor      | ▪ Whitney Young      |
| ▪ Stokely Carmichael        | ▪ Roy Wilkins        |
| ▪ George Corley Wallace Jr. | ▪ Bayard Rustin      |